

FRIEND OF CARLIN DENIES THE STORY

Takes Exception to Report That Campaign Money Was Used.

IF SO, PUNISH THE GUILTY

Loudoun County Will Have Its Candidate Two Years Hence.

BY WALTER EDWARD HARRIS.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—The large number of Virginia Democrats in Washington are much interested in charges being made that the friends of Mr. C. C. Carlin, recently nominated to Congress from the Eighth Virginia District, had used improper methods to bring about his nomination. There were some charges of this character made during the progress of the campaign. They have recently been renewed. They are somewhat lacking in definiteness. A Culpeper county newspaper appears to be lending those who are crying fraud. It is fair to state that this paper opposed the nomination of Mr. Carlin.

A Washington newspaper endeavored to locate Mr. Carlin to-day, but it was stated in Alexandria that he was not in the city. A friend of his said, however, that he knew Mr. Carlin knew nothing of alleged criminal work in connection with his election, and that if anything in violation of the law were done at Culpeper or elsewhere, the local authorities should take cognizance of the improper or criminal acts, and bring the accused to trial.

Doubt Story of Corruption.
A Democrat of Loudoun county said to-day that he did not think the fact that Mr. Carlin carried Culpeper was evidence of fraud. One of the leading merchants of Culpeper, who was a strong partisan of Mr. John P. Ryan, when Mr. Ryan withdrew from the contest the day before the primary election, turned to Mr. Carlin, and, and successfully, to turn the Ryan strength to the Alexandria candidate. Other Ryan supporters in the county are said to have done the same. This may account in large measure for the success of Mr. Carlin in Culpeper county.

"Loudoun county will have a candidate for the congressional nomination two years hence," said the gentleman quoted above. "The county has not had the honor of furnishing the representative in Congress for seventy years. Yet it is probably the most reliably Democratic county in Virginia."

PACIFIC STEAMER WRECKED AT SEA

Two Persons Out of Eighty-Seven Aboard Were Rescued.

SANTIAGO, CHILE, June 24.—The Pacific Steam Navigation Company's coasting steamer, Santa Rosa, a vessel 116 tons, trading between Panama and the South coast of South America, has been wrecked in a heavy squall fifty miles north of Corral. One passenger and one officer are known to have been saved. The remainder of the passengers and crew are reported to have perished.

The Santa Rosa left Corral with her engines out of order as a result of storms, and instead of proceeding to Panama she started to return to Valparaiso, a much greater distance. She carried four passengers and eighty-seven in her crew. It is feared that all, except two persons, perished.

A sister ship, the Arica, sank during a terrible storm at Valparaiso about four years ago, when many lost their lives.

TILLER GETS LICENSE NOW

Former Oregon Hill Saloon Man to Sell at Wholesale Elsewhere.

A license to conduct a wholesale liquor business at 3124 P Street has been granted by the Hustings Court to E. N. Tiller. Mr. Tiller is one of the three men who were recently denied saloon licenses on Holly Street, where he had been conducting the liquor business for some time. The congregations of three churches, several charitable organizations and many individuals appeared to protest against the granting of a saloon license to Tiller. So far as could be ascertained yesterday, however, no objection was offered to the application for a wholesale license in the remote northeastern section of the city. A year or two ago, however, a saloon at that location was refused a license on petition of several carloads of ladies, who appeared to object thereto.

Every other house on this particular block, except two that are vacant, is occupied by negroes.

Wise Talks by "The Office Boy"

The boss says: "Don't get too gay in what you have to say about things. They are the boss's concern, not mine. They are ready-made, but only a few in a hill. A good tailor is a variety, but when you find a good one, he is a valuable member of society. Of course, he knows it, and charges for it. A really good tailor asks about three times what we get for a poorly-tailored business suit, and doesn't even allow ten off, as we are doing now, to dispose of our stock. You see, we expected big trade this spring, and, as everybody knows how bad the weather man treated us, you can't blame people for not buying them. But they're getting all the hot weather they want now, and we're passing our clothes, hats and shoes out to lucky purchasers and giving them 10 per cent. discount on the purchase price. That's a fair, square way of inducing the people to buy now, the boss says, and what he says goes. Our Furnishing Goods Department is still in existence, and, although we're not giving a discount on these wools, the old man has picked out about 15 lots of different things, such as Hose, Wash Ties, Handkerchiefs, Suspenders, and marked 'em way down to close 'em out. Come in and look them over. Here's a coxer—25c. Wash Ties he marked 15c. each—but that's all I'll tell you about."

WILLIE, WITH Fisher & Son
MAIN & 14TH STREETS

LIFE-SAVING MEDAL TO RAILROAD HERO

Left Bed and Took Boat to Rescue Mail Clerks in River.

President Directs That Another Be Given Rescuer of Polish Boy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—President Roosevelt, through the Interstate Commerce Commission, to-day awarded railroad life-saving medals to Charles Arms, of Clarksville, Tenn., and Edgar E. George, of Parsons, Pa. Mr. Arms' heroic exploit was saving the lives of Mail Clerks J. G. Martin and Thomas A. Frazier and Baggage-man Robert L. Morris, whose train on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad plunged through the draw-bridge over the Cumberland River at Clarksville, fifty feet down into the stream, which was at flood stage. The three victims were clung to the top of the partially submerged cars, which were being swept down the river. At first none dared go to their aid, but Arms, who was confined to his bed with malarial fever, learned of the accident, and, partially clad, rushed to the river bank and appealed to bystanders to go with him in a boat to rescue the men. He finally pushed off alone, took off the imperiled trio and safely landed them.

George saved the life of a Polish lad, whose foot had become fastened in a railroad frog at Parsons. Unable otherwise to extricate the boy's foot, he seized the boy's body, bent it down outside the rail, forced the imprisoned leg under the engine cylinder oil boxes and steps on cars, which scraped their bodies, but they escaped uninjured except for the boy's badly strained foot and leg and slight bruises sustained by George.

TO INVESTIGATE THE AYERS CASE
WASHINGTON, June 24.—Lieutenant-Colonel Charles G. Ayres, Fourth Infantry, having declined to make any statement regarding the authenticity of a published interview with him, in connection with the controversy at West Point, in which Mrs. Ayres is involved, Secretary Taft has directed that a further inquiry be made into the facts in the case. This investigation will be undertaken by Inspector-General Harrington, and upon his report will depend the further action of the War Department.

ALL EVIDENCE SUBMITTED IN COTTON SCANDAL CASE.
WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

ATTACK EMPEROR FOR BREACH OF THE FAITH.
ST. PETERSBURG, June 24.—The social revolutionist and group of toll members of the late Parliament, numbering 139 deputies, to-day issued their anticipated manifesto, denouncing the people to continue to force the struggle for land liberty and popular representation. The documents, which claim that Parliament perished for defending the people's rights, are remarkable for the fact that the Emperor for the first time is attacked by name for breach of faith; the revolutionary proclamations having hitherto attributed all sins to the government on account of the lingering sentiment of loyalty to the Emperor among the peasant masses.

NEW YORK, June 24.—A four-story building at the corner of LaFayette and Walker Streets collapsed early this morning. Three or four families were living on the upper floors, and firemen are searching the ruins for those believed to have been killed. Paul Lintig, who conducts a saloon on the ground floor of the building, and one or two of the tenants, are known to have escaped.

At 2:10 A. M., the police announced that eight persons, members of two Italian families who lived in the building, were still in the ruins. It has not been ascertained whether they are alive or dead.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER.
J. B. Gore, a young, well-dressed white man, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective-Bureau Wren and Special Officer Burns, of Hurlburt, at Murphy's Hotel, where he was staying, and taken to the Southern Express Company in South Carolina. Gore is about thirty-five years of age, and of pronounced appearance. When searched $250 was found on his person. He will be taken back to South Carolina.

FAMILIES ARE BURIED IN RUINS
Four-story Brick Building in New York Collapses and People Caught Inside.

NEW YORK, June 24.—A four-story building at the corner of LaFayette and Walker Streets collapsed early this morning. Three or four families were living on the upper floors, and firemen are searching the ruins for those believed to have been killed. Paul Lintig, who conducts a saloon on the ground floor of the building, and one or two of the tenants, are known to have escaped.

At 2:10 A. M., the police announced that eight persons, members of two Italian families who lived in the building, were still in the ruins. It has not been ascertained whether they are alive or dead.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER.
J. B. Gore, a young, well-dressed white man, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective-Bureau Wren and Special Officer Burns, of Hurlburt, at Murphy's Hotel, where he was staying, and taken to the Southern Express Company in South Carolina. Gore is about thirty-five years of age, and of pronounced appearance. When searched $250 was found on his person. He will be taken back to South Carolina.

FAMILIES ARE BURIED IN RUINS
Four-story Brick Building in New York Collapses and People Caught Inside.

NEW YORK, June 24.—A four-story building at the corner of LaFayette and Walker Streets collapsed early this morning. Three or four families were living on the upper floors, and firemen are searching the ruins for those believed to have been killed. Paul Lintig, who conducts a saloon on the ground floor of the building, and one or two of the tenants, are known to have escaped.

At 2:10 A. M., the police announced that eight persons, members of two Italian families who lived in the building, were still in the ruins. It has not been ascertained whether they are alive or dead.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER.
J. B. Gore, a young, well-dressed white man, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective-Bureau Wren and Special Officer Burns, of Hurlburt, at Murphy's Hotel, where he was staying, and taken to the Southern Express Company in South Carolina. Gore is about thirty-five years of age, and of pronounced appearance. When searched $250 was found on his person. He will be taken back to South Carolina.

FAMILIES ARE BURIED IN RUINS
Four-story Brick Building in New York Collapses and People Caught Inside.

NEW YORK, June 24.—A four-story building at the corner of LaFayette and Walker Streets collapsed early this morning. Three or four families were living on the upper floors, and firemen are searching the ruins for those believed to have been killed. Paul Lintig, who conducts a saloon on the ground floor of the building, and one or two of the tenants, are known to have escaped.

At 2:10 A. M., the police announced that eight persons, members of two Italian families who lived in the building, were still in the ruins. It has not been ascertained whether they are alive or dead.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER.
J. B. Gore, a young, well-dressed white man, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective-Bureau Wren and Special Officer Burns, of Hurlburt, at Murphy's Hotel, where he was staying, and taken to the Southern Express Company in South Carolina. Gore is about thirty-five years of age, and of pronounced appearance. When searched $250 was found on his person. He will be taken back to South Carolina.

PICK UP BODY OF BALLOONIST

TRACK OF THE BALLOON, FROM ALDERSHOT TO THE SEA.
LONDON, June 24.—All doubt as to the fate of Lieutenants Caulfield and Leake, of the Royal Engineers, who made a balloon ascension from Aldershot Camp on May 28th, has been removed. The body of Lieutenant Caulfield was picked up at sea near Weymouth to-day. It was fully dressed, but the features of the officer were unrecognizable from decomposition due to long immersion. King Edward and Prince Fushimi, of Japan, witnessed the ascent of the balloon. A strong wind was blowing at the time, and it was soon carried out of sight along the coast. Two days later the balloon was picked up at sea some distance from Exmouth by a fishing smack.

EDUCATION BOARD WARNS CLEMENTS
Board Overlooks Delinquencies, But Says if Repeated, Removal Will Follow.

DR. C. M. HAZEN IS ELECTED
The State Board of Education last night elected Dr. Charles M. Hazen, division superintendent of schools for Chesterfield county, to succeed the late Captain W. A. Blankenship, adopted a resolution warning Superintendent James E. Clements, of Alexandria, against further delinquencies in sending in his reports to the department, and adjourned until 9:30 o'clock this morning, when some routine work of more or less importance will be taken up.

The members were all present, as follows: Governor Swanson, Attorney-General Anderson, Superintendent Eggleston, Dr. Charles W. Kent, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Colonel N. B. Tucker, and Messrs. McChesney and Lynch.

Case of Clements.
The case of Superintendent Clements was called early and quickly disposed of. The Alexandria man was cited to appear and show cause, if any he could, why he should not be suspended from office for failing to send in his school reports promptly to the department.

The case was briefly discussed, and a resolution was adopted overlooking the delinquencies of Mr. Clements up to this time, but warning him if they occurred again, the Superintendent of Public Instruction would summarily suspend him and designate a school trustee of his jurisdiction to act as superintendent pending the election of his successor by the board.

New School Journal.
Dr. Kent, chairman of a committee named at the last meeting, took into consideration the establishment of a State school journal, reported progress, and said the matter was being gotten in such shape as that the publication could be shortly commenced.

Dr. Hazen is a practicing physician, with offices here and at Bon Air. He is an M. A. of Richmond College, and was graduated in medicine from the Medical College of Virginia. Dr. Hazen was for some years physical director at Richmond College, and is now a member of the faculty of the Medical College of Virginia, being professor of physiology and a specialist on nervous diseases.

Dr. Hazen is well known here and in Chesterfield county, and has long taken deep interest in educational affairs.

The appointment is regarded as an admission that the board is now in a position to take action on the calendar.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The government to-day concluded the presentation of its case against E. S. Holmes, Jr., known as "the cotton leak case," and immediately afterwards the attorneys for Holmes entered upon an argument intended to secure the dismissal of the case on the ground that there is no law that applies to the offense of giving out departmental information. Attorneys Lester and Worthington spoke, and the latter had only concluded when court adjourned for the day. The district attorney will present the opposite view to-morrow.

CAN REGULATE, BUT CANNOT PROHIBIT

Senator Knox on Federal Power to Regulate Commerce.

TALKS OF YALE LAW SCHOOL

Says That Failure of States to Meet Issue Makes Change Necessary.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 24.—The crator of the day at the senior exercises in the law school of Yale University this afternoon was United States Senator Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania.

Senator Knox spoke on "The Development of the Federal Power to Regulate Commerce," and said that the power was granted chiefly as a safeguard against commercial hostilities and reprisals between the States, and that the necessity to exercise the national power over commerce arises largely out of the failure of the States to regulate with great care the course created by and under the dominion of the States, and engaged in interstate commerce. That failure has led to well-known abuses which affect interstate commerce, and thereby created the necessity for the exercise of Federal regulation almost always springs from causes the States could have prevented, said Senator Knox.

No Power to Prohibit.
Continuing, Senator Knox said: "In my judgment, the power to regulate commerce between the States does not extend to the power to prohibit commerce, unless the prohibition has for its purpose the facilitation, safety or protection of commerce in interstate commerce, or the accomplishment of some other national purpose."

The power to regulate interstate commerce does not extend to the laying of an arbitrary embargo upon the lawfully produced, harmless products of a State, nor to the right to defeat the policy of a State in its own internal affairs.

"I concede that the national power to regulate interstate commerce includes with it the right to prohibit commerce in order to secure equality of commercial right, or to prevent restriction of or interference with commerce, but not to prohibit the shipment of the innocuous products of producers within a State, who are carrying a course sanctioned by the laws of the State, and in no wise in itself interfering with interstate commerce. If prohibition of interstate trade is within the scope of the power of Congress, it might be exercised so as to exclude the products of particular States or sections of the country. Congress then might prohibit the shipment of cotton or wheat to promote the interests of wool or corn."

Dean Henry Wade Rogers presided, and the Townsend orations were delivered by George P. Whitman, of Atlanta, Ga., on "Character as a Factor in the Development of Civilization," William K. Cambos, of Philadelphia, on "James Wilson," Albert C. Moss, of Lancaster, Pa., on "Carl Schurz."

EXPRESS TRAIN HIT SWITCHING ENGINE

Crash Broke Many Windows, But Cars Did Not Leave the Rails.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., June 24.—The express which leaves New York at noon crashed into a switching engine at the lower part of the freight yard of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad this afternoon. The train was going at the rate of thirty miles an hour, and although it did not leave the rails, the sudden stopping broke many of the windows in the cars, seriously injured two persons, while a score of others escaped with cuts and bruises.

The severely injured are J. S. Johnson, New York, and R. E. Haskins, Mrs. F. A. Jennings, New York, and Miss J. Miller, New York.

As the train approached the foot of Union Street a switching engine started to cross the main line track, but the windows in the cars were demolished, and the parlors were badly damaged.

FIVE PERSONS WERE KILLED

Engineer's Son, Riding in Cab With Father, One of the Victims.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 24.—Five persons were killed and a score more or less seriously injured at 11 o'clock last night on the Auburn Branch of the New York Central Railroad, one mile of Pittsford, when a passenger train crashed into a freight train.

The smoking car was telescoped, and four of the fifteen passengers were instantly killed. The fifth victim was Emmet Brown, son of Engineer Lyons, of the freight, who was in the cab with his father. Engineer Lyons is not expected to live. There are several injuries in Rochester hospitals, all of whom, with the exception of Lyons, are expected to recover.

The dead: Emil Lyons, fourteen years old, Rochester; Miles S. Cutting, station agent at railroad mile; B. H. Jacob J. Boss, Lockport, N. Y.

FAMILIES ARE BURIED IN RUINS
Four-story Brick Building in New York Collapses and People Caught Inside.

NEW YORK, June 24.—A four-story building at the corner of LaFayette and Walker Streets collapsed early this morning. Three or four families were living on the upper floors, and firemen are searching the ruins for those believed to have been killed. Paul Lintig, who conducts a saloon on the ground floor of the building, and one or two of the tenants, are known to have escaped.

At 2:10 A. M., the police announced that eight persons, members of two Italian families who lived in the building, were still in the ruins. It has not been ascertained whether they are alive or dead.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER.
J. B. Gore, a young, well-dressed white man, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective-Bureau Wren and Special Officer Burns, of Hurlburt, at Murphy's Hotel, where he was staying, and taken to the Southern Express Company in South Carolina. Gore is about thirty-five years of age, and of pronounced appearance. When searched $250 was found on his person. He will be taken back to South Carolina.

FAMILIES ARE BURIED IN RUINS
Four-story Brick Building in New York Collapses and People Caught Inside.

NEW YORK, June 24.—A four-story building at the corner of LaFayette and Walker Streets collapsed early this morning. Three or four families were living on the upper floors, and firemen are searching the ruins for those believed to have been killed. Paul Lintig, who conducts a saloon on the ground floor of the building, and one or two of the tenants, are known to have escaped.

At 2:10 A. M., the police announced that eight persons, members of two Italian families who lived in the building, were still in the ruins. It has not been ascertained whether they are alive or dead.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER.
J. B. Gore, a young, well-dressed white man, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective-Bureau Wren and Special Officer Burns, of Hurlburt, at Murphy's Hotel, where he was staying, and taken to the Southern Express Company in South Carolina. Gore is about thirty-five years of age, and of pronounced appearance. When searched $250 was found on his person. He will be taken back to South Carolina.

FAMILIES ARE BURIED IN RUINS
Four-story Brick Building in New York Collapses and People Caught Inside.

For Every Cooking Purpose

This is the stove you should have in your kitchen. It's new. It's up-to-date. It's different from other oil stoves. It will give you best and quickest results on baking-day and other days. The flame of the is always under immediate control. If you use a New Perfection your kitchen will be cooler this summer than ever before. Every stove warranted. Made in three sizes. If not at your dealer's, write to our nearest agency for descriptive circular.

NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

The Rayo Lamp is the best lamp for all-round household use. Made of brass throughout and beautifully nickel-plated. Perfectly constructed; absolutely safe; unexcelled in light-giving power; an ornament to any room. Every lamp warranted. If not at your dealer's, write to our nearest agency.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (INCORPORATED)

PRESIDENT SIGNS DOMINICAN TREATY
Document Provides for the Regulation of Custom Matters.

JAPANESE TO SUE STATE FOR DAMAGE
California Defendant in Case Growing Out of Attack.

PREPARE FOR BOND ISSUE
WASHINGTON, June 24.—According to private advices received here to-day the proprietor of the Horse Shoe Restaurant, which was attacked during the recent anti-Japanese riots in San Francisco, will to-morrow enter suit in the State courts of California, against the city of San Francisco to recover damages done the restaurant property. District Attorney Delvin, in a telegram from San Francisco, says he will represent the Japanese plaintiff in the action. It was stated at the Department of Justice to-day that some time ago Mr. Delvin was instructed to offer his services in suits were entered.

Effect on Trade Relations.
TOKIO, June 24.—An informal meeting was held this afternoon by the delegations from the Chambers of Commerce of Tokyo, Osaka, Kobe, Kyoto and Yokohama. A resolution was drafted indicating the grave danger facing the Japanese in the payment of the United States and Japan, owing to the anti-Japanese sentiment on the Pacific coast. The necessity of resorting to speedy measures to remove the obstacle to the development of trade relationship was pointed out. At the next meeting to be held within a few days the resolution will be given official form and then wired to the principal Chambers of Commerce in the United States asking their co-operation.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS WILL BE ABOLISHED
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., June